Sempermed Offers POLYMED[®] Sterile

Clearwater FL, April 24, 2009: Sempermed, one of the world's leading suppliers of latex examination gloves, is pleased to offer POLYMED[®] Sterile exam gloves.

POLYMED[®] Sterile offers the quality and advantages of other POLYMED brand gloves, but in a sterile put-up for aseptic situations. The gloves are packaged in pairs within sterile peel pouches.

Polymed[®] Sterile contains 50 micrograms or less of total water extractable proteins per gram, which significantly reduces the potential for allergic reactions. The gloves also offer powder-free protection that eliminates the aerosolization of glove powder as well powder transfer of latex proteins. The beaded cuff increases its strength and protection.

Sempermed produces gloves at its own facilities in Europe and Asia, and has over 180 years of manufacturing heritage. For more information on Sempermed or its products, contact Sempermed USA, Inc., 13900 49th Street North, Clearwater, FL 33762; 800-366-9545; website: www.SempermedUSA.com.

Sempermed is a vertically integrated manufacturer that provides focused sales, marketing, and logistical support to those in need of hand protection.
